SHOWTIME!

Well it's that time of month again !!! The ever popular 'PCS' Show . The biggest thing to happen since the last 'PCS' Show ! Well in this article there will be drink orientated questions which often crop up at the afore mentioned gathering .

- (1) I see a very famous person who I'd like to meet but the trouble is I'm a no-body . How can I win his friendship ?
- (A) Well the problem is easily overcome , providing you've got some cash about your person . Go up to the person and say "Would you care to indulge in a drink or two ?" . The person in question will look up and down at you then say "Ten pints of Flowers best Bitter cheers mate !" . This will automatically win his friendship . A drawback is that his attention will start to wander when the alcohol supply starts dwindling . He shows no emotion and will get so irritated by your presence that an obscene word will flow from his mouth and you will then be hit about the head by a rolled up show guide .
- (2) I'm a member of a lame group who thinks stealing unreleased games will improve the group's image . The trouble is that I'm a bit shy and timid . Can you help ???
- (A) Take a trip to the bar and drink as many drinks as you can . Quadruple vodkas should help you on your way! When you're feeling feeling confident , go up to a large and glitzy looking stand complete with flashing light , and music blaring and approach one of the blonde bimbos and say ' Hey luu gis ush sum of your hot stuff!' . This might or might not work in your favour . She may ... (a) slap you round the face (b) Call the boss of the company over to give you a good beating (c) have you thrown out by show security or (d) etc. etc. ... OR on the other hand she most probably will give you a game of your choice , give you a kiss on the cheek and say 'Have a nice day !' .
- Note : Before you perform this exercise call some of your friends over to the scene ( Don't worry if they're on the floor dying with laughter - they're probably drunk )
- (3) Whenever the show comes round I dread the ample drinks they've got on offer . I thought I'd bring my own but am unsure what . Can you recommend any ?
- (A) Add these things to your shopping list :
5 cans of CARLSBERG special brew , 10 cans of FLOWERS bitter ,
10 bottles of NEWCASTLE brown ale , 5 cans of GUINNESS , pack of 100 Benson and Hedges , ounce of killer Cambodian , packet of King Size Rizlas . Have a good time !!!!

Well that's about all I'm doing cause the pubs open so remember if you see anyone at the show sporting a 'THE JCS' badge say hello and hand them a drink !
